Am Your Newspaper

THERE APPEARED in the Publishers' Auxiliary of November 4th last an editorial written by Carl R. Miller for his own paper, the Willacy County Chronicle. The issue for which this editorial was written was calling attention to the Annual Review of Newspaper Week and contains no word of interest to our own Canadian Weekly Newspaper Publishers that we are taking the liberty of placing it on record for the benefit of both publishers and readers. The editorial follows:

This week throughout the nation I am one among a group of some 9,000 country newspapers calling your attention to the annual observance of Newspaper Week.

As to being a big newspaper, boasting of big-name columnists or big-town syndicated features, I lay no claim. A small county in the Rio Grande valley, Willacy county with its 14,000 people, lays no claim to being a big county.

But for 52 weeks ending October 1 this year I have brought you a total of 61,000 column inches of news about you, your family and your friends in over a thousand papers. You know many of whom are my neighbors. I have printed more than 200 pictures of Willacy county men and women serving in the army, navy and other branches of the world. I have brought you news and reprinted letters of your boys and girls in the army camps and naval bases, on the invasion fronts in Europe and the Pacific.

When the shocking news came from the War Department that Cpl. Oran Taylor was killed in action over the English channel, when Sgt. Charlie Knowles lost his life during a raid over Berlin, when Pfc. Jose Rosales died from wounds sustained on the Italian front, you read about it in my columns. You read about the awards of the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Purple Heart and other official recognition for Willacy County boys. You read about the proud day they received their symbolic wings; the day they were promoted to private first class; the day they became colonels and majors.

Here on the home front in my columns you read about what the folks in Lafayette, Louisiana, know many of whom are my neighbors. You learned who attended the pink and blue showers, what was the subject of the meeting, who gave the address, who was the speaker, who had charge of the program of the Study club, how many new Texans came into the world during the week, who preached at the Baptist church last Sunday, and the editorial page you learned what the editor thought about things that concern Willacy county folks. You also read what other valley editors had to say about the week.

By reading the advertisements in my columns you learned what local merchants had merchandise on hand for sale, what was being sold at your valuable time and vital tires and gasoline in your weekly routine of war-time shopping. You scanned columns for news of what was playing at the local movie theatres. That too, was rendering a worthwhile service. So on, through my pages until you read in the Trading Post that Mrs. B. V. Crowell's milk can had strayed away from home.

I am your hometown newspaper. Each week I record the sentiments, the pathos, the joys, the absurdities common to all American communities. Each week I am your historian, reflecting for posterity the simple things you do, the noble things you perform, the homes you build, the sons and daughters you are raising—the America that you are.

As long as there is a United States as we now know it, as long as we continue to raise valiant, unselfish, unafraid men as we are doing to-day, as long as we are proud to get our share of the population of the United States are country people, like the people I now serve, we the 9,000 country papers throughout the length and breadth of the land, will continue to serve you.

Frequently I say, "I am your newspaper!"—Carl R. Miller in the Willacy County Chronicle, Raymondville, Texas.

We think the time has come for all our editors to stress the value of their own weekly newspaper, setting forth what it means to their community. It has been the experience of many publishers that the war has made the people acutely conscious of the value and importance of their weekly newspaper and this is evidenced by the greatly increased circulation and by the comments and attitude of the public in general. Weekly newspaper readers have awakened to the fact that nowhere else can they get so much paper can they read news concerning themselves and their fellow townfolk. This is important to them because nearly every family has some story with a war angle. We are living in a time when the war has gone out to larger centres in these war days, but who never forgets the time when the war was forwardly to the next issue of the home paper. This evidence of confidence and appreciation brings its own responsibilities, which is that the weekly paper must be kept on a high level of attractiveness. The editor intends doing his part and if readers rally to his support there is bound to emerge from this co-operation a better weekly newspaper and a more enlightened community.

AWAITING JUSTICE

The Belgian News Agency says that about 60,000 persons are being held in prisons and internment camps in Belgium to "await justice." Forty-five commissions have been appointed to advise the Minister of Justice on the possible release or trial of the prisoners.

It has been estimated that the temperature of the center of the sun is not more than 180,000,000 degrees Fahrenheit.

Price Control
And Rationing
Information

Q—My son is now in the Armed Forces. Must I send him his No. 1 ration book as well as his No. 2 book? He has a few coupons left. When he comes home on week-ends?

A—All ration books in the name of a member of the Armed Forces must be surrendered to his unit when he reports for duty. Your son will be provided by his unit with an Application for Ration Coupons for members of the Armed Forces of a Ration Card when coming home for 48 hours or longer.

Q—I read the other day that grocers could deliver orders under one dollar. Yet when I ordered 25c worth of sugar my grocer said he couldn't deliver it. Can he refuse to make such a delivery?

A—Yes while the regulations limiting deliveries to one dollar or over has been removed, each retailer can decide his own delivery policy, and of course, deliveries will be restricted to one per day on any route.

Q—I find that I will not be using my ration coupons for a long time. Is the free reason is about over. Are they of any value or should I destroy them?

A—Canning sugar coupons which are still valid, or tractor or you will not be entitled to make application to pay a new one.

Q—I am thinking of selling my tractor now and buying a new one in the spring. Will I be entitled to do so?

A—Yes, you must obtain a permit to sell your tractor or you will not be entitled to make application to pay a new one.

Q—When buying clothes should I keep the new Wartime Prices and Trade Board label that I see on so many garments that I purchase these days?

A—By all means. If you have to make a complaint as to size, price or quality of the garment you will need the label in order to substantiate the article and to check as to your complaint.

Please send your questions or your request for the pamphlet "Consumers' News" or the Blue Book to the National Bureau of Consumer Affairs, 1400 Broadway, New York 5, N.Y. Send your questions to the nearest Wartime Prices and Trade Board office in your province.

Churchill Slept In Bed Goering's Always Visit In Paris

Prime Minister Churchill's recent visit to Paris must have brought him a bit of personal satisfaction over the liberation of France. While there, Mr. Churchill slept in the same bed in the royal suite at the Quai d'Orsay which Marshall Goering used to use during his visits to Paris during the German occupation.

The fat marshal also occasionally used a bed in an adjoining room which was occupied by Foreign Secretary Eden, who accompanied Mr. Churchill.

Gratuity Legislation

Applications Should Be Sent In By Men Discharged From The Service

Fewer than 41,000 applications for war service gratuities have been received by the navy, military and air force at Ottawa since it was announced some time ago that application forms were available, a survey by The Canadian Press has disclosed.

Approximately 150,000 in the three services were discharged or became casualties prior to Oct. 1, and of the number only 40,700 have applied for the gratuities, provided under legislation passed at the last session of parliament.

Spokesmen for the services said it was not lacking of 155,000 who have not yet applied that was causing worry and it was hoped they or their dependents would file applications promptly. Personnel discharged after that date automatically filed out their gratuity application forms before leaving the service.

Application forms are available at all naval, military and air force establishments in Canada and at all district and sub-district offices of the former pensions department, now the department of veterans affairs.

Dependants of men killed or discharged need not fill out forms, but need only make application in a letter giving the man's name, rank and regiment and the date of death. However, they were dependent upon him.

Under the gratuity legislation active service personnel were receiving $7.50 for every 30 days service in the western hemisphere, which included the United States, Newfoundland and South America; $15 for every 30 days service overseas, including the Aleutians, Ireland and Greenland; seven day pay, plus allowances for each six months' service overseas, and a re-establishment credit.

Members of the home defence army who served in Alaska are entitled to gratuities covering the period of their service there. Other home defence troops, however, receive no benefits under the legislation.

Members of other countries who served in Canadian forces are entitled to the gratuities. Canadians who have been discharged from other Empire forces during the present war may apply, if they now are domiciled and resident in Canada, and were domiciled in Canada at the outbreak of hostilities. Those discharged from the other Empire forces need apply only if they give full particulars of service.

Payment of gratuities is expected to begin early in the new year. For most men it was advisable for them to eligible to file their applications immediately.

"These eligible should realize that if they file their applications in the middle of December they cannot expect to receive their cheque the first week in January," a spokesman said. "There is too much administrative work to be done to allow such rapid handling of applications."

Dependents were eligible for gratuities only if they were eligible for dependents' allowances at the date of the member's death or if not eligible for dependents' allowances, providing they were dependent upon the member at the time of his death. The details required in the application forms.

Military Record

Indian Family That Has Contributed Much To The War Effort

Chief Joe Dreaver of the Mistawasis Indian reserve in Saskatchewan, is one person who knows the meaning of war.

The day war was declared Chief Dreaver arrived in Saskatoon with all the boys of military age in the reserve. There were 14 of them, among them his three sons. All enlisted in the Canadian Army.

The years that followed saw the quiet life scattered but on Oct. 6 it suffered its first death. Sgt. Harvey Dreaver was killed in Italy. The reserve was also notified that Pte. Sam Dreaver of Leam. Sask., an uncle of Harvey's had been wounded.

Chief Dreaver has an outstanding military record himself. A veteran of the First Great War, he is now a member of the Veterans Guard of Canada guarding Nazi prisoners of war. Recently he visited Saskatoon to meet his son George, discharged after service overseas. Henry, acting chief, and his daughters, Myrtle, of the C.W.A.C. and Gladys, a member of the R.C.A.P. (W.D.), after the reserve he returned to the reservation for a memorial service in honor of his son.

Took No Chances

Goering Removed All Of His Possessions From East Prussia

While assuring the people that East Prussia was invulnerable, Reichsmarschal Hermann Goering nevertheless took his trucks to his Goering loaded until they bulged with Goering's possessions, including valuable paintings out from his frames; then they moved off toward Berlin.

The lodge, which is in Rominien Forest, used to belong to the Hohenzollern family. It is no hut. It has two massive wings, connected by a glass-domed gallery, and is ornamented with carved animal sculpture and Gothic stained-glass windows. The forest is well stocked with deer and wild boar, which Kaiser Wilhelm used to shoot, and after him Goering. Now the game no doubt is helping to feed the Red Army, for Goering's private hunt was right in the Prussians did take the hunting preserve and its lodge—New York Herald Tribune.

"Now," barked the colonel, "I want no prevarication. Did you, or did you not, strike Serg. Pringle?"

The prisoner thought for a minute. "Then," he replied.

Pathe—There's plenty of time for our daughter to think of getting married. Let her wait until the right man comes, then you can marry her. What else?

Mother—Why should she? I didn't.

They were having their first quarrel.

"I'm disappointed," said the husband. "When we were first married I thought you were an angel."

"Yes," retorted his wife. "I suppose that's why you never brought me any clothes."

Jones—Venetian in the hospital last week?

Smith—Yes, I had a terrible high fever.

Jones—What did they give you to cure it?

Smith—A homely nurse!

Whats matter with you, are you bilious?

"Blind!" snapped the driver. "I hit you, didn't I?"

Old Gentleman—You're an honest lad; that was a $10 bill, not 10 cents.

EXPERIMENTAL FARM NOTES

All grain companies are definitely interested in the quality of seed grain used by the prairie farmers, and various methods are used to bring about improvement. Two hundred and thirty-nine farmers in Southern Alberta had samples of their grain tested from the standpoint of purity in small plots at the Lethbridge Experimental Station. The results showed that slightly over 21 percent were classed as being too impure, some of the particular samples tested, piled by the organization known as the Crop Testing Plan, which was formed 13 years ago by the Saskatchewan Grain Company of Winnipeg. The Midland and Pacific Grain Company now co-operates with the Searle in conducting this work.

Farmers' grain samples are collected by elevator agents of the above mentioned grain companies and sent to some central point for testing. A plot of two rows, and a rod in length, is sown from each sample and the plants are fully grown. All plots are classified as A, B or C, meaning good, medium or poor, depending upon the number of impurities found. Plots containing more than four impurities are classed as C, and those which are more than 10 percent impure are classed as B. This season 16.9 percent of the samples tested at this station were classed as mixtures. The samples were received from twelve points located in the best grain growing parts of the district.

This district compared very favorably with other districts in regard to the percentage of A samples but the percentage of mixtures was slightly above the average for all other districts where the work was conducted this season. Many of the mixtures showed the presence of a few seed varieties, indicating that the seed used was of quite ancient origin. In an area such as Southern Alberta where rust resistance is not as particularly necessary the number of suitable varieties can be kept quite small, thereby making it comparatively easy to maintain seed of a high standard of purity. Farmers are much less dependent now upon custom threshing machines.

TEST YOUR GRAIN FOR GERMINATION

It is important to know the germinating quality of your grain. Your Alberta Grain Agent will arrange for germination tests free of charge.

The Alberta Pacific Grain Co. (1943)

an they used to be so that this important means of introducing impurities has largely been eliminated. The grain companies conducting the Crop Testing Plan assist farmers in getting better seed by arranging an exchange of their commercial seed with other farmers whose grain was classed as A or by procuring for them registered or certified seed at prevailing prices.

Later in the season agents of all grain companies operating in Alberta should have a list of the different seed stocks available in the province. Probably the easiest way to build up a supply of pure seed is to purchase a small quantity of registered or certified seed, sow it on clean land and take the necessary precautions to avoid having impurities get into it.
